

~~TOP SECRET~~

Arab-Israeli hostilities could break out without prior warning. However, there is no reason to believe that either side has made a decision to launch major hostilities. The possibility that the expansion of an incident or a miscalculation might develop into a major conflict is enhanced by the proximity of large forces, heightened tensions in the area, the weakening of restraining factors, growing Arab self-confidence, and Israeli fears.

~~TOP SECRET~~